A screenshot of the MacKeeper application's "Fast Cleanup" window. The interface is in a light gray theme. At the top, it says "MacKeeper" and "Total space recovered: 8 bytes". Below that, it says "Last scan: Oct 19, 2010 5:13 PM". The main heading is "Fast Cleanup" with the subtext "Clean your Mac quickly and safely." Below this, there's a list of cleaners with checkboxes and "View Result..." buttons. The cleaners are: Binaries Cleaner (290.0 MB), Cache Cleaner (945.2 MB), Language Cleaner (258.1 MB), and Logs Cleaner (3.2 MB). At the bottom, it says "Total Junk Size: 1.5 GB" and has "Start Scan" and "Remove All" buttons. There are several callout boxes with white backgrounds and gray borders. One callout points to a "click the ON" button and says "Select the cleaners you would like to use in Fast Cleanup." Another callout points to a "View Result..." button and says "View detailed results for this cleaner." A third callout points to the "Total Junk Size: 1.5 GB" and "Start Scan" buttons and says "Start scanning process". A fourth callout points to the "Remove All" button and says "Remove all found junk". On the left side of the screenshot, there's a sidebar with a "Fast Cleanup" summary showing the same cleaner sizes and a "1.5 GB" total. Below this sidebar, there's text: "See how much space you can free up." On the right side, there's a "SUPPORT" section with "24/7 CUSTOMER SUPPORT" and "1 888 572-3876".
